The way society has been structured has led to a male dominated society. Women who deviant from their expected behaviours become ashamed of their indulgence of taboos that have been created by society, which then leads to insecurity when faced with the 'perfect' example of womanhood, e.g. 'The porn actress'.