When to Call 911:
- Victim may have a life threatening condition.
- Victim is unresponsive
- Victim’s condition may become life threatening
- Moving victim could make condition worse
- Do not transport victim yourself
  - Head neck back injury
  - Moving could cause possible paralysis
- Unresponsive or AMS
- Not breathing/ difficulty breathing
- Chest pain/ discomfort
  - Can indicate heart attack
- Severe bleeding
- Head or spine injury
- Poisoning/ drug overdose
- Vomiting blood
- Seizures
- Severe burn
- Drowning
- Threatened suicide
- Imminent childbirth

Other reasons to call 911
- Fire, explosion
- Vehicle crash

Call first vs. Call Fast

Call first (before starting CPR)
- If alone with adult victim