The benefits/advantages of attending a center-based child care program typically include:

- potentially better educated/trained caregivers (although not always)
- a more structured schedule and school-like environment, especially beneficial for older preschoolers in preparation for kindergarten
- more likely to have an educationally enriched curriculum that encourages literacy, language development, social and emotional development
- opportunities to socialize with more children and teachers
- substitute teachers, so should the caregiver become ill, someone else will fill in
- enrichment activity opportunities like soccer, dance, music or foreign language classes are common

POSTPONING JOB HUNTING

Job hunting is the act of looking for employment, due to unemployment or discontent with a current position.

KEY POINTS

- The immediate goal of job seeking is usually to obtain a job interview with an employer which may lead to getting hired.
- Common methods of job hunting are finding a job through a friend or an extended business network, personal network, online social network service, or employment website.
- Many job seekers research the employers to which they are applying. Some employers see evidence of this as a positive sign of enthusiasm for the position or the company.

EXAMPLE

- Contacting as many people as possible is a highly effective way to find a job. It is estimated that 50% or higher of all jobs are found through networking.

CONFLICT THEORY

Education promotes social inequality through the use of tracking and standardized testing and the impact of its “hidden curriculum.” Schools differ widely in their funding and learning conditions, and this type of inequality leads to learning disparities that reinforce social inequality.

ISSUES

K to 12

What is K to 12?

The K to 12 Program covers Kindergarten and 12 years of basic education (six years of primary education, four years of Junior High School, and two years of Senior High School [SHS]) to provide sufficient time for mastery of concepts and skills, develop lifelong learners, and prepare graduates for tertiary education, middle-level skills development, employment, and entrepreneurship.
