Business Letters for Busy People is designed to be used, not just read. You not only get the easy-to-read impact of chapter-by-chapter “how to” information, but each section is also filled with checklists, ready-to-use letters and guidelines to help you do your job better, more effectively, more easily — right now! It's literally a user's manual for the business professional.

Business Letters for Busy People is packed with the most concrete information, useful techniques and practical tips possible in the smallest space. So you don’t have to wade through endless pages of fluff searching for that elusive kernel of wisdom.

Business Letters for Busy People gives you concise, easy-to-use learning resources that get results. Check out the format and don’t be surprised if you find yourself leafing through the pages for tidbits of fact and business trivia. The margins deliberately focus your attention, acting like a thumbnail index. And, each chapter is tabbed on the margins so you can turn right to the chapter you need to see. Read the chapters that are immediately important to you. Although there is a logic and order to the design of the book, you can read it in the order that best suits you. Each chapter stands alone.
One of the problems you may run into is writing to a person with a name that is not gender specific; for example, the name Terry. The simplest solution in the salutation is to say, “Dear Terry Lucas.” If you are addressing a group of people in general, such as the shipping department, do not assume they are all male. The old “Gentlemen” is not acceptable. “Shipping Agents” is preferred. The way around having to use a salutation when you are unsure of whom you are writing is to use the Simplified Letter (see Chapter 3).

Subject Line

The subject line is most commonly used in the Simplified Letter. It announces the subject of the letter and provides a summary of your intent.

Body of the Letter

This is where you make requests, provide information or reasons, or reply to someone. It is the main part of the business letter (see Chapter 3 for the various body formats).

Complimentary Close

This varies in formality and is found in all business letters with the exception of the Simplified Letter and the Memo (see Chapter 3 for its placement). The following complimentary closes are in order of decreasing formality:

- Very truly yours,
- Respectfully,
- Sincerely yours,
- Cordially,
- Sincerely,

The most appropriate, in general situations, is the last.
Modified Semi-Block

You will recognize the Modified Semi-Block as the format most commonly taught as “the business letter.” It is the same as the Modified Block except that the paragraphs are indented five spaces. All spacing remains the same.

Step-by-Step Guide

The purpose of the collection letter is to get the customer to pay an overdue bill.

Step 1: Check the spelling of the recipient’s name. Use a gender-specific courtesy title only if you are certain of the recipient’s gender. There is nothing more embarrassing or irritating than getting a collection letter, except getting one that is addressed improperly.

Step 2: The first part of the letter should state the concern and the situation (date purchased, amount owed and date due).

Step 3: The next part of the letter should indicate the deadline for paying the bill and any penalties that may result. You may also wish to indicate your company’s policy concerning late payments, grace periods, penalties or alternative payment plans.

Step 4: The third part of the letter should indicate the consequences of not paying the bill. Initially, these may be penalties, but, as the bill becomes more delinquent, it may include warnings of ruined credit ratings or involvement of a collection agency.

Step 5: The final part of the letter should encourage the recipient to send full payment or contact you to arrange a payment schedule. End with goodwill and a positive attitude that this situation will be resolved satisfactorily.

Note: At the end of this chapter is a checklist to use when you write collection letters.
Checklist

- Did you verify the name of the recipient?
- Was the tone of the letter firm but understanding?
- Did you state the amount owed?
- Did you state when the bill was originally due?
- Did you state the penalties, if any?
- Did you suggest an alternative payment plan?
- Did you state the grace period, if any?
- Did you state the new deadline?
- Did you summarize telephone contacts?
- Did you indicate the consequences of not paying the bill?

Your satisfaction is important to us. In order to continue to produce a high-quality product, we have recently obtained new high-speed, high-definition printing presses. This, along with the increased price of paper, has forced us to increase our prices by 10% effective March 15. I have enclosed a brochure with the new prices in it for your benefit. Orders received before March 15 will be filled at current prices.

Thank you for your understanding in this matter. We feel that these increases will still allow you to sell these superb cards at competitive prices. We hope you will let us know immediately if there is any way we can serve you better.

Every year I take time to look ahead to what the next year has in store for our employees. Next year’s outlook is exciting.

In the past year, RM Trucking has experienced phenomenal growth, moving from the tenth-largest trucking firm in New Mexico to the second-largest. We project that in the coming year we will become number one in New Mexico and number two in the combined states of New Mexico and Arizona. It is because of our farsighted staff that we have been able to achieve this kind of success. Naturally, this success affects everyone who works for RM Trucking. Because of our unique profit-sharing plan, each employee benefits.

Next year will be exciting at RM for all of us involved. I hope you will make the most of these opportunities.

Dear Mr. Grimschaw:

We of the Greater Pittsburgh Family Fund would like to invite you to chair the Health Committee for 20XX.

The Health Committee disburses funds to help families that have exhausted all other medical resources. We are asking you to chair this committee of eight people for one year.

Your leadership and organizational skills are essential for our continuing success. As a committee member last year, your dedication to helping others was apparent. Here is your chance to make a difference in the lives of families in desperate need. We need your combination of compassion and competence in directing the Health Committee.

Presently, the committee meets weekly to review requests and act on them. Additionally, you would need to prepare a monthly disbursement report to be presented to the Greater Pittsburgh Family Fund’s monthly Steering Committee. You would report directly to me.

Thank you for considering this offer. Please let me know by July 15, 20XX, if you are able to take this position. I look forward to working with you.

The Honorable Hank Schlesselman

9900 Ralston Way
Austin, TX 78603

Dear Mr. Schlesselman:

I am most concerned about your support for H.R. 376, its stringent restaurant sanitation requirements will double our costs, which will, of course, be passed on to the consumer. This may put many restaurants out of business.

I own Mario’s Pasta Inns, Inc., a chain of 15 Italian restaurants throughout Texas. Additionally, I am the past spokesperson for Restaurateurs International and am an active member of its governing board. Our organization has thoroughly researched sanitation laws for restaurants throughout the world. Texas currently has the most stringent laws and is recognized as a leader in the area of sanitation for restaurants. H.R. 376 in all cases has standards that even our medical labs would have trouble meeting.

I hope you will seriously consider the impact H.R. 376 would have on our economy. Such a bill can only cause the loss of jobs and income and create disgruntled customers. Please withdraw your support of H.R. 376.

Step-by-Step Guide

Although sympathy cards are available, a letter of condolence is more personal. Letters of condolence should be written with a sincere tone. If at all possible, reflect on the person who has died.

Step 1: The first part of the letter offers your condolences.

Step 2: The second part of the letter, if possible, should reflect on the person who has died. If you knew the person well, personal recollections are appropriate. If you did not know the person well or at all, this part is optional; although, if you can relate this person’s life to your own in some way, you should include this part.

Step 3: The last part of the letter offers further condolences or support.

Note: At the end of this chapter is a checklist to use when you write a condolence letter.

Remember

Condolence letters should always be handwritten. It is in very poor taste to type a letter of condolence.

Thank you for your interest in becoming part of Powell’s training and development department as an instructor. I agree that everyone needs a change once in a while. However, though you have good production experience, this position requires in-depth knowledge of the training process. Although you have been with Powell for five years, your background and experience have not prepared you for this particular position. 3. Defense counsel’s initial analysis of liability and quantum
4. The most current narrative medical report that best describes the claimant’s history, diagnosis and prognosis

Also, if the defense counsel’s assessment of the case changes, I must have notification of that as well.

If I need other information, the burden will be on me to request it. I hope this letter will serve to clarify exactly what I need regarding insurance reporting.

Thank you for your cooperation.

MEMORANDUM

Date: September 18, 20XX
To: All Employees

Re: Change in Health Insurance Provider

Beginning October 1, First Coverage will be the health insurance provider for our employees.

Although few changes will occur as a result of our switching health insurance coverage, you should note that First Coverage designates certain medical professionals as “preferred providers.” These individuals have agreed to accept predetermined fees for certain services. While our employees are free to choose their health-care provider, fees will generally be lower when using preferred providers. This will result in lower costs to you on services not covered in our policy or performed before individual deductions are met.

Detailed insurance information will be distributed to all employees when our new policy becomes effective October 1. In the meantime, if you have any questions regarding this change, please contact me at ext. 432.

Your article about Williams and Sons in last Sunday’s Times was most appreciated. However, there is one correction that needs to be made.

In the article you stated that Williams and Sons has grown 15 percent in the last year. In reality, we have grown 25 percent in the last year — 15 percent of that being in the last month. Perhaps this seems like a trivial matter, but the smaller number is negative publicity for Williams. Would you please make a correction in your upcoming business-news section this Sunday?

Thank you for your prompt consideration. We appreciate the fine job you have been doing.

Sincerely,

Signature

C. Blake Williams

Change in Client Status Announcement

This message announces the change in status of a client and explains an unusual situation and how it is to be handled.

To: All Supervisory Personnel
From: D. Broadwik
Subject: TriState Industrial Services Account Status

Effective immediately: DO NOT SERVICE TriState Industrial Services.

TIS has dropped their contract with us, as of the end of last month. They are not entitled to any service. But evidently, word has not gotten around to all of TIS’s personnel. We continue to get calls from their people.

Please make sure all staff members are aware of this change. This may be awkward, since many staff members have built relationships with people at TriState, but we cannot service a company that is no longer a client.

If anyone from TriState needs to discuss this, forward them to me at ext. 920 or to Seta Alvarez at 923.

Thanks for your help with this situation.

Duane Broadwik

When to Use E-mail

- To reach a lot of people quickly at the same time
- To send a short, personal message that doesn’t require official letterhead and signature
- To send a message that does not need the security or confidentiality of traditional mail
Request for Materials Ordered

A direct e-mail can be a very effective way of making a quick, informal request.

To: Roger Carlton
From: C. Celderon
Subject: Presentation Slides Not Delivered

Roger,

You were going to have the presentation slides for the Cortland project to me by yesterday. They have not arrived.

Please get in touch with me ASAP! We’ll need those slides for tomorrow afternoon’s presentation!

I left a voice mail with you this morning, too.

Charlie

Be Considerate

The more serious the message, the less appropriate the use of e-mail for communication. Bad news of any kind should never be sent via e-mail. Formal information can be altered, forged or duplicated easily in an e-mail format. Never send any communication that you would not be willing to say to someone’s face. Always consider whether the joke or witty memo is one you would share with your boss before forwarding it on to someone else.
Checklist

- Did you complete the to/from/subject information?
- Did you make your request or share your purpose in the first sentence or two?
- Did you keep the format and text plain and simple to avoid a garbled transmission?
- Did you write with clarity, effectiveness and courtesy?
- Did you check the content of your message for sensitivity, confidentiality and privacy issues?
- Did you include all the background information, project details or request specifics so the recipient understands your expectations?
