Need to protect those who own property against those you did not, but also not trample on their inalienable rights – Representative Government

- Preventing the majority from taking direct party in the exercising of political authority
- System of representation as a filter system

- Representation as a mechanism which allows for the protection of property from the demands of the propertyless
  - Pure democracy was a system which led to anarchy instead a Republic was required

- Multi-layered argued which is not wholly liberal but goes someway towards it
