Life is a journey in which we strive every day to discover new sources of inspiration so that we can better understand ourselves and the events that happen to us. Inspiration can be found in music, the scent of the stormy sea, the sunny day, the favorite film, the new book we read.