- The only opening of root canal which may vary in shape, size and location depending on the functional changes that a root may undergo.

Functions of the Pulp

1. Inductive – the pulp anlage has a role of inducing the oral epithelium to differentiate into dental lamina and enamel organ

2. Nutritive – pulp supplies nutritional elements to the dentin through the odontoblasts and its process.

3.