Religion and globalisation

Embrace a similar life style as Calvinism.

This process can help raise society out of poverty.

- Religious ideas are not enough though to produce economic development, natural resources also needed.