Marxism: Capitalism and punishment:

Marxists believe that capitalism makes crime inevitable, as crime is a logical response to inequality. The justice system punishes this crime by reinforcing capitalist values by using ‘armed bodies of men’.

Foucault: Birth of the prison:

Foucault seeks to analyse punishment in its social context. He looks at how the prison system has changed since the 18th century.