Symptoms: Teens and Adults

- Problems reading aloud
- Struggles with time management
- Have a tough time doing math problems
- Trouble summarizing a story
- Unable to learn a new language
It's a hereditary disorder

Dyslexia can be linked with genes that are responsible for how your brain develops

The genes interfere with the ability to correspond letters with a sound