ii. Typologies don’t usually offer any extra understanding or information about traits

iii. Can be helpful theoretically as a personality summary, offers a clear picture, easier to consider psychological dynamics

7. Summary
   a. Belief in stable, causal, personality traits that are built in
   b. Goal: identify how many there are and which are the most important