During this period that much more of Britain assimilates Roman culture far quicker than in other periods. Much of the rest of Britain subdued again.

Best example of Roman campaign fortress - Inchtuthil, probably constructed in AD80, used for a year, then dismantled for use elsewhere.