

1. Social networking – Social networking has become very popular and many businesses are recognizing the value of making sure they have a solid social networking program in place. They will pay people to manage their social media and make regular posts.
2. CPA marketing – Cost Per Action or CPA marketing is much easier to make money on than affiliate marketing. As long as the person clicks the link and goes to the merchant's site and carries out the action required, such as signing up for the newsletter, you will earn your commission. Most times there is no need to generate a sale in order to earn commission. What makes CPA marketing so lucrative is that at no money has to be spent for you to earn money and that makes it very attractive.
3. Sell your art or craft online – If you create stunning works of art or you love to craft you can sell your wares on sites like Etsy where you set your price, or Ebay where you auction off your items or set a fixed price. There are tons of other sites so find the niche for your product.
4. Drop ship – There are tons of online sites that allow you to create a free storefront and be a drop shipper. You don't have to do anything but get the customer. The rest is taken care of by the provider.
5. Money exchangers – Convert online money through money exchangers. They take a fairly big cut when converting currencies. You need to have a store front, you get to invest money, and you can do it all online with little hassle. A simple website, and you can start making money making conversions.
6. Job referrer – Unemployment numbers are staggering and it has never been more difficult to find a job. So here's a job opportunity for a few that want to make their living online. Sites like Referearns or WiseStepp will pay you for referring new employees. Refer the right person and earn up to $1000. Wow!
7. Blog commenting – For a blog to rank well there needs to be comments and interaction. Bloggers are busy creating blogs so they will often hire a person to comment on their blog and generate good conversation that leads to sales.

Out of 7 different ways to earn money online, one is bound to catch your interest.

Different Ways to Make Money Online

The ways to make money online are constantly changing and evolving as more opportunities become available. Let's look at 3 ways to make money online that you might not have normally thought of. You don't have to put out a single penny and you can begin to make some money. These three opportunities are smaller gigs that can generate a steady stream of cash, which can really add up.

Provide Answers

This is the perfect gig for anyone who loves information. There are a few different ways you can make money. You can get on as an expert in one of the sites like JustAnswers or Kgbanswers. Customers ask a question and an expert replies with an answer. ChaCha is another site that you can provide advice, although the pay ranges from 1 cent – 20 cents so you need to build a real following in order to do well.

Pitch Products

Generate a Realistic Income Online

“Work 3 hours a month and earn a million.” “I earned $400,000 in less than 12 months.”

Sounds pretty darn good doesn't it? You can find these kinds of promises all over the internet. It's filled with millions of promises and to someone eager to make their living online it can be a dangerous mine field to navigate. Of course, contrary to what this hype would like to tell you, if you would like to make a true income online, it requires you to be determined, persevere and work hard. There is no get rich quick method that works, but we're going to share 4 ways that you can create an online income for yourself.

#1 Printing Digital Products

E-products are convenient and popular, but some people still prefer to have a printed copy of a book in their hand or a CD with the pictures or information on it. They like to be able to feel it, touch it, hold it. There are sites online that provide print as you go services, so you can offer the service, get things printed hassle free, and then return the finished product to your client.

#2 E-Books

Creating e-books or reports that a customer can download to their computer is a good place for any an e-infopreneur to begin. You can easily create a digital download. All you need to do is create the e-book or report and turn it into a PDF file, then take advantage of the many online providers that can sell your e-book for you such as Amazon or E-Junkie. This is a much easier option than creating a physical book, which requires you to invest in printing and then the distribution of that book. You will need to determine what is a profitable topic.

#3 Audio Products

Tons of people prefer to listen rather than read so consider an e-book that is also offered in an audio option. You can create a CD, MP3 or a podcast to offer to your customers. It's fairly easy to create an audio using a service like Audiacrobat or some other similar service. It allows you to earn two income streams off of one product.

#4 Affiliate Advertising

Affiliate advertising can be a profitable form of online income if you have a blog already and now you want to start making money off of it. Some of the easiest ways to start generating affiliate advertising income is through sites like Google, Commission Junction or Clickbank. Affiliate advertising is performance based so you don't earn any money until someone actually clicks on the link. You aren't likely to get rich on this, at least early on, but it can provide another income flow option.

Here are 4 ways you can make a legitimate income online. There are others. Just avoid the sounds too good to be true offers, because they are.

Fun Ways to Make Money Online

With so many different ways to make money online, we thought we'd look at 4 fun ways to do so.

Intrade is another website where prediction making happens, but with a twist. You can predict hundreds of events like Academy Award winners, presidential election results, etc. You buy shares if you think an event will occur or sell shares if you think it will not occur. If your prediction is accurate you make money. If you are wrong, then you will lose money.

This type of money making opportunity requires a bit of a 'risk' personality where you aren't too worried about your betting and the losses that can occur. You can quickly lose a lot of money. Of course, you can quickly win a lot of money too.

Take Online Surveys

There is certainly no shortage of online survey sites and you can give your opinions while earning money. You can find a job by visiting sites like ZoomPanel.com or GlobalTestMarket.com. You earn points and rewards for taking a wide range of opinion surveys.

Ejury.com is another site that pays you for being part of a mock jury online. You are paid $5 to $10 for every verdict. The attorney prepares his/her case submission. This is made up of facts from each party's perspective. EJury converts the attorney's submission into an online format and then posts it to a secure ewebsite location where only Ejurors have access. They review the facts of the case, provide answers to the questions, hit the 'submit verdict' button when done and get paid.

These methods will make you some extra spending money, but they won't make you rich. However, not everyone that wants to make money online is ready to quit their day job. These are two great ways to make some extra dollars.

Work as a Virtual Assistant and Earn Money Online

The demand for virtual assistance is certainly on the rise. People that work as a virtual assistant can actually make a full time income online using skills that they already possess. The earnings will depend on who you are working for. Some sites do nothing but connect virtual assistants with clients. The most common method is through a bidding process.

You find a job that interests you and then you bid on it. What you bid will depend on the duties that are required. You will often bid on an hourly rate, although some jobs are flat rated. The hourly rates can vary from ridiculously low such as $2/hour to average $10/hour to higher $20/hour so search around.

Virtual assistants do all kinds of tasks. They can do research, schedule appointments, answer calls, post to social media, create reports, make phone calls, do bookkeeping tasks, and the list goes on. Different virtual assistant positions require different skills and so you should look to find a posting that matches your skills and what you like to do.

We all know how to answer a telephone, but you might not want to do that all day long, so don't apply for virtual assistant jobs where phone answering is part of your duties. You should also make sure you ask lots of questions up front so you really do understand what's expected of you.