

Now the screen offer's us the option of sending our installation record to an email. I would "HIGHLY" recommend this option, since it will give us an "Electronic" trail backup to our installation. Just keep a copy of the email for future reference, you never know when it could come in handy....

The screenshot shows the cPanel 10 interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'HOME' and 'LOGOUT' links. Below this is the cPanel logo and a search icon. The main content area is titled 'WordPress' and shows the 'Install WordPress (3/3)' status. The installation path is listed as `/home/azsno/public_html/iphonedemo/wp-admin/`. A 'Please note' section states: 'We only offer auto-installation and auto-configuration of WordPress but do not offer any kind of support. You need a username and a password to enter the admin area. Your username is demo. Your password is demo. The full URL to the admin area (Bookmark this!): <http://lesswork.net/iphonedemo/wp-admin/>'. Below this is a 'Back to WordPress overview' button. At the bottom, there is a section titled 'Email the details of this installation to:' with an input field and a 'Send E-mail' button. The left sidebar contains various navigation options under categories like 'Navigation', 'Blogs', 'Content Management', and 'Customer Relationship'.

Let's go to our "FREE" ftp program now, since we need to upload a couple of files to our site...You can find an excellent "FREE" ftp program In "FileZilla." Here's a link for the download: <http://filezilla-project.org/> Just put your Host, username, and password info in (the port should be 21), and do a Quickconnect...

We'll now go to the "Options" tab and configure our phpBay Lite plugin...You can Select Affiliate Type, eBay PID, and whether you'd like to display an eBay logo....

phpBay Lite Instructions

phpBay Lite is the original free Ebay plugin for Wordpress. Don't settle for untested copies of our works by unscrupulous people.

When writing or editing a post, a new button will appear on the button panel as "pBL" (in the "Code" tab) which stands for phpBay Lite. Just place your cursor in the text window where you want to display auctions and press the pBL button and it will insert the pre-formatted code for you.

There are two parameters used in the tag. The first is the keyword(s) of what you want to list, the second is the number of listings you want to display. Example:

[phpbay]apple ipod, 10[/phpbay]

I've picked the options I need to properly get paid from Commission Junction now. Make sure you "Update Options" or your choices won't be saved....

Now this tutorial doesn't include how to get the AdSense script, maybe I'll include that information in REV 2, but for now I'll assume you know how to retrieve the AdSense script.....Once you have the AdSense script, just click on the "box" with the "horizontal" lines on each "Text 1, 2, or 3" rectangle, and this is the box you'll get....Place your "Title" in the top frame (I picked Google Ad's for mine-clever heh???)....Now paste the AdSense script into the box....click on the "X" in the top right hand corner and the box will disappear to the "Sidebar." Rinse and Repeat for the other "Text" boxes you have.....Remember to "Save Changes"

Now let's view the site: <http://lesswork.net/iphonedemo/>

Look's pretty good to me.....There are many more things you can do to "Customize" these Professional looking eBay & AdSense mini-sites, but that is outside the scope of this book....

BTW, if you want more control over your phpBay code then you'll want to invest in phpBay PRO.
