

Optimism has a lot to do in this battle. It gives me good vibrations which attract positive outcomes. It simply gives me the thought of there's always a rainbow after the rain. And there at the middle of this battle, I'll shine.

All I know is that I have to enjoy life as long as I have time because life comes with an expiration date. According to Mark Twain, "20 years from now you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines, sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover."

I know it's not going to be easy to win this battle but I believe in myself, I believe in the almighty power that will be guiding me in this journey less traveled. For now I will stop here, but the real journey is more than what I have said in this paper. I will continue to fight. I promise I will win.
