

"It felt very sorrowful and strange that this first night of my bright fortunes should be the loneliest I have ever known."

Pip after receiving his fortune, spends the loneliest night he has ever had.

"I must be taken as I have been made. The success is not mine, but the two together make me."

Estella talking about herself and Miss Havisham.

"Take nothing on its looks, take everything on evidence. There's no better rule."

Jaggers' advice to Pip

"Look here, Pip. I'm your second father. You're my son I've put away money, only for you to spend."

Magwitch tells Pip that he cares for him like a son and that he has put away money for only him to spend.

"Brought up by hand."

Pip was brought up harshly by Mrs. Joe.

"Her watch had stopped at twenty minutes to nine, and that a clock in the room had stopped at twenty minutes to nine."

Miss Havisham's life had stopped at twenty to nine (when Compeyson left her at the altar).

"Do you want to be a gentleman to spite or to gain her over?"

Biddy asks Pip this question, showing us that she has great wisdom.

"You must be better educated."

Jaggers tells Pip this.

"He would wash his hands, wipe them and dry them..."

Jaggers would do this to signify innocence.

"It's Joe, me then you. Not the other way around. Got it?"

Orlick is a bully who tries to maintain his position in the forge.

Characters:

Pip- Pip is the protagonist and the narrator of the story who was "brought up by hand" by Mrs. Joe. Pip desires to become a gentleman, hoping to win over Estella as well. He soon realises that the lavish life of a gentleman isn't something that made him happy and the lower class life he lived with Joe was better.