

though, is knowing when and when not to use it. Scenes should be reserved only for the story's most important events, like action sequences, blow-ups between characters or important plot developments. Less significant events, such as a character buying a cup of coffee or driving to work, can get by with a sentence or two of summary to fill in the gaps.

Preview from Notesale.co.uk
Page 2 of 2