

The Melody of Love

I know my dear, this is a rare thing

I know love when I encounter one

There is this undeniable flame inside my stomach

As you came into my life, you took my senses away

You touched my soul with your smile

When you kissed me, it sent shiver down my spine

Your love gives a high voltage electricity in my body

My whole world collides because of you

Now, I've forgotten what it's like to be unique

I hide behind a smile, pretend everything is fine

I hide behind the pain

I know there is nothing to gain

Here I am in the place that we've met

Remembering the memories and tries to forget

And now I'm all alone

Healing the pain on my own.

Writing to Express:

- By reading the poem, everyone can relate because this is reality of being in love.

Speaking to Interact:

- As you read this poem and tries to tell it to someone (someone who had never been in love but knows how it feels to be in love) he/she can still feel the emotions of sadness and the longingness of that first person in the poem. Because everyone knows how it feels to be in love.

POINTS TO REMEMBER:

- ✓ Loving can hurt, but it is the only thing that makes us feel alive.
- ✓ Love can also cause pain, sacrifices and forgetting who you are.
