What needs to change.

Several points to consider when choosing a school:

1. The purpose of graduate school. For employment? Do research? Higher education? ...

Employment -- cities and schools, research.

Choose -- school and major, education -- that doesn't matter.

2. Strength. How hard could you possibly be? That's the most important thing. There seems to be nothing more than that.

Do you think you're willing to give up a series of honors? Can you resist the temptation of classmates, work and entertainment?

Whether home and school support... To put it bluntly, the postgraduate entrance examination is a war of resistance.

Coming down, three to four hours in the morning, three hours in the afternoon, three hours in the evening, often reading and tired of reading, tired and bored.

Go back to see a movie, about 8 hours of effective study time a day. During the period also after several plays, the memory is very deep.

There are "flower thousand bones" and "nirvana in fire", etc. Because a person review is too boring, never play the game I in about 11, February.

In the time of the customs clearance of "the legend of the sword".
