Hello,

These grades were made for those people who like and want to learn another language and are ready to start studying.

For years I've been hearing some people calling themselves teachers on the internet, promising students a magical and effective method, which will make the student fluent in 3 months, which is untrue. There are several factors that can disrupt the fluency of a single student, such as the shame of speaking wrong, the fear of public speaking, among others, which are very complicated factors to be dealt with by the internet.

In view of these occurrences, I have made the decision to bring you a method of stimulation and that helps you to learn the language without realizing it;

I'm not promising you fluency in any given time frame, but rather by telling what you can do to make your learning better and more satisfactory, facilitating the understanding of the phrasal structures and settings.

Let us go to the method, which consists in joining the useful to the pleasant. Think of two of the things we most like to do. That's right, listen to music.

and watch series / movies, easy is not it?

The first step is to start paying more attention to the lyrics and pronunciation of the songs and if possible accompany the lyrics of the song.

(Currently there are several sites that offer the lyrics and music together).

The second step is to choose a movie that you like and watch it again, with the original audio and subtitles in your language, then watch the movie with the original audio but no caption this time. In this way you develop your hearing for a better perception of the other language and learn the correct pronunciation. It is recommended that you do not start with very complicated films / series that talk about medicines, laws and so on.

It is preferable that you start with a series that has an easy-to-understand and day-to-day language.
