

Education is of great importance to children. It helps them to discover many things in the outside world and the child's mind becomes bigger than his age. The more information you absorb, the more you need to take care of your child's education.

The benefits of education

Plato

In fact any teaching process is self-teaching, the teacher is just a guide pointing you to the path. No school, no matter how efficient, is able to give you a real education. What you receive at school is like drawing borders in a coloring book for children, and you have to paint the blanks yourself.

Louis Lamor - American writer and writer

Our information-based society, in which everything goes fast, needs those who know how to get the information, not how to remember it, and those who can adapt to the changes in a smarter way. The two things we do not learn at school.

Waden Priesnitz - Canadian writer specializing in education

Education is what remains in our minds after we have forgotten everything we learned in school. It is a miracle to maintain so much curiosity about education and love of knowledge, after it came to the official educational means.

I do not have any special talent .. I'm just passionate about learning!

Albert Einstein

Isaac Azimov - Russian novelist and chemist

The school is an advertising agency that convinces you that you need the community as it is. It makes you believe that life has a secret that only these teachers know. You can only know it through them or gain a higher status in society without this means.

Ivan Elish - Philosopher and Rev. Asali supports home schooling

Do not believe in the words of your teacher because you only respect this teacher. Do not believe in any idea until after examination and analysis. And make this is your guide in life.

Buddha

All you have said can be summed up in just two words .. you trust in children, nothing simpler nor harder. It is difficult because in order to trust children you have to trust yourself first, and most of us have been told in his childhood that he can never be trusted.
