

Context

- * Written in 1894
- * Boer war - 1880-81 (South Africa)
- ↳ Thick fog - common to London in 19th cent.

- * English poet and novelist
- ↳ focuses on tragedy.

- ↳ focuses on tragedy.
- ↳ audience knows he's dead

- ↳ naivety sparks sympathy from audience

Structure

- ↳ 2 stanzas - 'tragedy + irony'
- ↳ large role in achieving anti-war poet message

- ↳ juxtaposes 'hoped return'
- ↳ wife's dream

- ↳ reader feels more sympathy.

Language

- ↳ fragmented wife clauses
- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

- ↳ emphasises significance of wife's dreams as she comes to terms with reality

Dramatic irony

- * describes husband's letter to me full of 'hopeful return'

- ↳ audience knows he's dead

- ↳ naivety sparks sympathy from audience

- ↳ feels useless and incomplete - waiting for letter, foreshadowing

- ↳ 'glimmers cold' in 'morning paper'

- ↳ foreshadows his dream with the loss of light

- ↳ his happiness is gone.

- ↳ 'light' symbolises hope - 3rd stanza.

Narrative Satire

- * 'when we wams now' 'now' contrast between telegram and letter'

- ↳ anti-war message, referring to grave.

- ↳ 'impatient and emphatic' irony'

- ↳ 'shaped' 'many' - unsympathetic, blunt.

- ↳ 'letter - 'frankly' - irony'

- ↳ 'loss' - juxtaposition of realities vs humanises me dream of her

- ↳ optimism and her sonnets

- ↳ husband whilst me telegram is formal and unromantic.

- ↳ grief - tragedy of warfare and widow

- ↳ pace changes - shorter sentences whereas first stanza is descriptive.

NARRATIVE

- * 'heavy vapour' - sombre, melancholic tone / atmosphere

- ↳ 'summer weather' - optimism in imagery of bright sun, rain,

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

A Wife in London

from Notesale.co.uk
Page 1 of 1

NARR + LOSS

- * 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'

- ↳ 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark' - 'dark'