

CHAPTER 1

Global Economy & Famine

During and after the COVID-19 outbreak, the World will witness a transition of power from political to oligarchy in many regions. Hence, the rich will rule in abundance which will see many of our leaders bow in cognizance to their terms and conditions. To be frank, not all leaders will bow; for many will but not all. In the US, the incumbent President will not succumb, so is the same with China, Russia and North Korea. Also, a small city called the Vatican will not succumb to this as well. Rather, its papacy will greatly influence the world's religious view ensuring that different beliefs from around the world come together under one umbrella. He who has wisdom should understand what the Book of Revelation speaks of as regards the Woman who rides the Beast in Revelation 17.

COVID-19 has temporarily crippled the world system and as well made mankind realise the importance of crypto-currencies (most especially Bitcoin & Ethereum); these are not hard but digital currencies. Hence, for the prevention of futuristic human contact, many will resort to obtaining as many of these digital currencies as they can for future purposes and this will result to massive crypto-investment schemes. When most governments realise that their citizens are engaged massively into this, they

Political Propagandas

COVID-19 is a key player in political propagandas ensuing between the Eastern and Western World of Civilization. As it stands, many from the West are pointing fingers at China as a nation that virologically engineered this pandemic disaster in order to assume the chief position of World Power. However, everyone should be aware that the more we look into this matter, the less we see what reality poses at us. I won't be in such a haste to blame China for this, but the question here is: Was the COVID-19 actually engineered for a purpose beyond human recognition?

Well, I would say yes. China is just a fish in a mighty ocean. What I mean to say is: China was just used as a means to spread the virus based on a similar but previous pandemic situation the country dealt with in 2002. Still, does her government have anything to do with its creation? My answer to this is not defined; perhaps, perhaps not. (Note: Even I can't accurately decipher who actually created this virus, but whoever did this is so intelligent enough to make the human race bend their knee to a bigger plan yet to be unravelled beyond our knowing and recognition). Due to these happenings, we begin to see that the COVID-19 virus alongside the killing of Iran's Major General
