

3.) The best type of roofing for me is Metal Standing Seam Roof.

I think this is the best type of roofing for me because it is extremely resistant to snow and ice formation, with ice sliding right off and not building up to form ice dams. It can also withstand strong winds, making it ideal for blizzard climates. It is also because metal standing Seam roofing materials won't crack, warp, or rot, meaning it's one of the most durable roofing materials available. It can last 40-70 years, depending on the material. It will not spark and ignite into flames during a wildfire or lightning strike. I have also known that it is energy efficiency. With the highly reflective paints that are factory-applied to the roof's surface, they can reflect solar radiant heat, which can reduce cooling costs by 10-25%.
