

Question 13 The belief that there are no universal human norms and values and all ethical principles are relative to a culture is called:

Selected answer: Cultural relativism

Corrected Answer: Cultural relativism

Question 14 Which document, adopted by the general assembly of the United Nations in 1948, proclaims the inalienable right of all humans to freedom, justice, and peace?

Selected answer: The Universal Declaration of Human Rights

Corrected Answer: The Universal Declaration of Human Rights

Question 15 _____ claims that leadership is not only the art of shaping values, but also the art of exploiting the values and beliefs of a culture or several cultures.

Selected answer: Frederich Nietzsche

Corrected Answer: Frederich Nietzsche

Question 16 _____ chaired the United Nations Commission on Human Rights and was asked to coordinate the writing and ratification of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights Document in 1946.

Selected answer: Eleanor Roosevelt

Corrected Answer: Eleanor Roosevelt

Question 17 Which management theorist proposed Theories X and Y?

Selected answer: Douglas McGregor

Corrected Answer: Douglas McGregor

Question 18 The five sources of power, as defined by French and Raven (1959), are as follows:

Selected answer: Reward, coercive, legitimate, expert, and referent

Corrected Answer: Reward, coercive, legitimate, expert, and referent