

As a part of my profession, I would start a construction company not only for personal profits but also for the benefit of the community at large. As a proprietor of the company, it would be my responsibility to create a lot of job opportunities for unemployed youths. My country being a minuscule, it lacks job opportunities for the youths. So, my company would be in a position to help the govt and solve the unemployment issues in some ways.

Additionally, I would share my time with my family as family comes first to me. Life is too short. So, I want to keep happy family memories. I would go on a family vacation to sequestered places and a few pilgrimages to holy places within my country. Bhutan is a Buddhist country, there are lots of sacred places to visit. Often in winter, I would take my family on pilgrimage to Bodhgaya and Nepal. To visit these two sacred places—blessed by the great saints—is my dream to visit.
