

IELTS Writing Task 2: Introduction for Essays

Learn With Sam And Ash

In this video we'll see types of essays that can be asked in your IELTS writing part two. The most common essay type is called two part question. In some countries around the world men and women are having children later in life. What are the reasons for this development and what are the effects on society and family life. Question is some people get into debt by buying things they don't need and can't afford what are the reasons for this behavior what actions can be taken to prevent people from having this problem this kind of question can come up in the exam and the chances are almost 20 to 30 percent only because we are still in the category of less common questions three problem solution all causes and solution. You have to talk about good aspects bad aspects and give guesses or provide your responses why do you think this one is better. You can not write in one paragraph both the views in the sense one paragraph for one view and then you can have a separate paragraph for opinion or you can write in the conclusion.

Preview from Notesale.co.uk
Page 1 of 1