

He says he gets a lot of questions that please tell me what is stock market. so that is why I am creating this video in this lockdown from my home.. It 's just a raw video and it 's totally informational, so that I am able to explain you what it is.. There is two types of trading, one is price action based which is called price action trading.. second is indicator based like Rsi indicator which you put. there is intra-day trading, positional trading and there is long term trading. The trading method differs from person to person. If you also want to be a part of the community
