

Shivangi Goyal says that bureaucracy should be like a steel frame of India. He says that at the time of independence there were concerns to our unity and integration. Civil services has lived up to its expectations but there are certain reforms that are needed in this structure. There are definitely Indian civil services has accountability standards and also empathy but there is need to enhance it further. How will you enhance suppose you if you become a member of the Indian administrative service? What is your vision of enhancing the quality of civil services based on these two parameters? Okay. Socialization is the process by which a person a young person basically learns the culture and the social aspects of the society in which he or she is living. Socialization works as a determinant of ethics so socialization has a great role to develop our value system and and how we implement them in a particular situation.

Track to diplomacy is basically an informal grouping where informal discussion only takes place. The other line of communication can be formal or not so it includes academia research think tanks, and so two plus two is a very formal communication involving the defense ministers as well as foreign affairs ministers of two countries in a bilateral setup. Shivangi is the word made of two words, Shiva plus Angi. Shivangi is an interesting candidate who started preparing for the exam in 2012 or 13. He says the constitution of India is invasive, and social characteristics or social equalities in which part of the constitution is. He also says Dharma is about ethics and religion is an organized institution in a body. The candidate says that if we are able to achieve them so it will be a big social revolution. Shivangi says marriage will still be a strong institution despite increasing number of divorce and people not getting married or staying in living relationships. He says the institution has lot of very strong benefits attached to this institution, like name three benefits among the benefits of a marriage as a social institution. Firstly, it gives you a social stability social status and it also regulates a social behavior.

Domestic health and its effect on our economy has been a popular topic lately. Many people are wondering why we should pay more for health care when we are already spending a lot on our domestic help. Ma'am, you are right - increased productivity and satisfaction in the job are two important benefits of enhancing domestic health. Additionally, a lacuna in our disaster management framework creates vulnerability to natural disasters. Three asanas that women should avoid during pregnancy are surah namaskar, bhujangasana, and svadhithana adho mukha svanasana. A major issue with our current disaster management framework is that it does not have many people insured. For drone technology to have a significant impact on our economy, it needs to be implemented in a way that improves the quality of life for everyone.

Glacier melting is happening across the world because of increased global temperatures, specifically in India. Ice surfaces have higher albedo because they reflect more energy and look like surfaces like dark urban infrastructure, like roads with dark colors. There will be ice cover on the North Pole and South Pole, but the South Pole is not actually covered with ice. Rural women in India have different needs than urban women, and they have traditional skills which can be tabbed. I will look forward to seeing what mentoring support marketing
