

33. The positive slope of the short-run aggregate supply curve is due to:	misperceived real wages.
34. A rightward shift of the AD curve is most likely caused by an increase in:	the federal deficit.
35. The self-correction mechanism that moves the economy from the short run to the long run is based on:	disequilibrium in the resource markets.
36. The short-run aggregate supply curve is like the market supply curve in that:	both have a price variable.
37. Supply-management policies are designed to shift the:	AS curve.
38. The time required to move from the short run to the long run:	is shorter for more technologically advanced economies.
39. The total real production of final goods and services available to the domestic economy at a range of price levels during a given time period is:	aggregate supply.
40. The two most noted stabilization policies are::	fiscal and monetary.

Preview from Notesale.co.uk
Page 2 of 2