

Quotes to Live By

- Govern yourself, and never abandon the right path.
- Remain aware and accepting that different people will have different suggestions, and that you cannot please everyone.
- Neither be cowardly, nor aloof, nor evade your rightful duties, but be courageous so as to contribute your part to the progress of humankind.
- Be neither a pessimist nor an optimist, but a leader
- The ability to delay (suspend) gratification and practice self control is a sign of strength.
- Focus on how you live
- Be brave enough to take calculated risks.
- If you seek personal gains you will inevitably fail. If you seek the mutual good, all will benefit, and you will also find satisfying personal gains as well.
- Everything I do should be out of love for the greater good. Even hurtful and harmful things