

LIFE IS THE MOST DIFFICULT TEST

Life is the most difficult test. A lot of people try to be how they aren't. Life has many problems. One of them is teenagers love.

Love is patient, love is kind. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.

Love is real, real is love.

Love never fails, but where there is knowledge it will pass away.

I think is better to be hated for what you are than to be loved for what you aren't.

The first love appears in teenagers. Their love can't be compared with anything else. It is the period when people have the truest feelings, the period which makes butterflies to appear in your stomach. You know you're in love when you don't want to fall asleep because reality is better than your dreams.

In my opinion, love at the first sight can be possible when two soul mates are found. Only once in your life you find someone who can completely turn your world around. You share hopes for the future, dreams that will really come true.

When something wonderful happened you can't wait to tell your friends about it, knowing they will share in your excitement. They aren't able to cry with you when you are hurting or laugh with you when you make a fool of yourself.

Never do they hurt your feelings or make you feel like you aren't good enough. You can be yourself and not worry about what they will think of you because maybe they love you for who you are.

It can be possible if you are good with your friends, you trust them and you don't judge them for every stupid thing. The most precious gift we can offer anyone is our attention.

You can meet a person and instantly know that you will be best friends forever. There are no rules about how a friendship has to be.

Whatever, my life's motivation is : "To forget your vanity is better than to lose your friends."
