

3)Choose the proper theme to talk about.

When you meet someone to the first time you should choose a proper thing to talk about. Choose an interesting themes that everyone likes to talk about like music,movies and sports. No one don't love these things so, talk about them. And don't talk about yourself a lot to not make the other person get bored. So, you can ask the other person to speak about themselves and then speak a little bit about yourself. Always choose good themes to talk about , if you wouldn't choose a good theme to talk about so you wouldn't talk a lot and the conversation becomes so boring. And also choose the proper theme relating to the situation. Its so important to choose the theme according to the other person's situation. If you choosed a themes unrelated to the current situation you would hear the other person say “its not the time to talk about that ” and that would be embarrassing. So, be careful while choosing the theme.
